

Hepburn And Holden Win Oscars; Best Movie Is 'Eternity'

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—William Holden, the movies' favorite average guy, and Audrey Hepburn, its favorite princess, won Hollywood's top acting Oscars Thursday night.

The movie "From Here to Eternity," tying the all-time record of eight awards, was named the best picture of 1953 at the 26th annual Academy Awards presentation.

Holden, who played a semi-hell in the movie "Stalag 17," was both happy and upset about his first Oscar. He was happy, of course, for winning the top honor but said he was "very upset" for having to hurry his acceptance speech due to the television time commitments.

Speech Cut Short

"They told me to say 'Thank you' and get off," he said. "I wanted to give credit to Billy Wilder (the director of 'Stalag 17') for having so much faith in me. I think they could have held off the closing commercial just a little longer so that everyone could know how much Wilder was responsible."

Holden, 36, and a native of O'Fallon, Ill., said he "was pretty leery" before the presentation of the award.

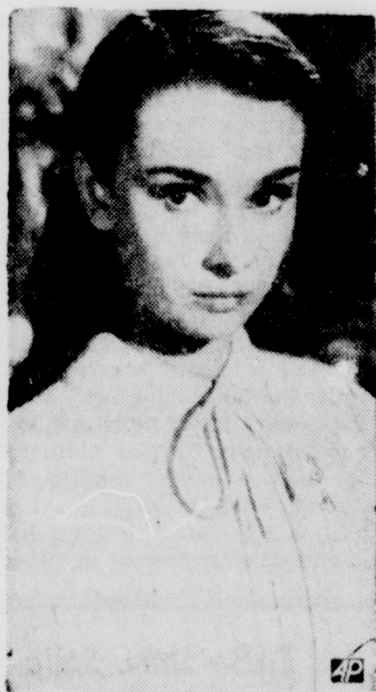

"I thought Burt Lancaster would get it."

Miss Hepburn, in stage makeup for her Broadway role of a water nymph in the play "Ondine," received her award in the New York portion of the show. Her first movie starring role was that of a princess on the loose in "Roman Holiday."

Rushed To Theater

Visibly touched, the 24-year-old ex-ballerina said, "I am truly, truly grateful." She said it like she really meant it.

So she would be free in time for the announcement, the management of her stage play had advanced curtain time 10 minutes and cut the intermission. In cos-

The sex- and violence-filled "Eternity," a story of the pre-Pearl Harbor regular Army, captured awards for sound recording, film editing, cinematography, screenplay, direction and supporting actress and supporting actor in addition to best picture. The eight Oscars tied the former record held by "Gone With the Wind."

Donna Reed, as the prostitute of the James Jones best seller, (changed to a painted hostess in the supporting category. The role was a drastic change from the goodie-goodie roles which the Denison, Iowa, native had played for years in the movies. Russia Proclaims East Germany Free; U.S. Calls It Sham

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

BERLIN (AP)—Communist propaganda drums beat their loudest today to announce the Soviet Union had raised East Germany to the status of a fully sovereign state. The West promptly branded the Russian move a sham.

The Russians announced Thursday night they hereafter would assume the same relations with the Communist East German government as "with other sovereign states," but would continue to keep their occupation army in the East zone to "safeguard security."

Western observers saw this as the latest in a long series of Soviet maneuvers to force official Western recognition of the East zone satellite—a campaign continually rejected by the Western Allies and the West German government on the grounds the Eastern regime does not represent the people.

The U. S. state Department in Washington recalled the widespread worker revolts last June in East Germany and declared the "entire puppet regime would collapse under the weight of hatred and hostility of the populace" if Soviet troops were withdrawn.

West Germany's Acting Chancellor Franz Blumberg, heading the Bonn government while Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is state-visiting in Turkey, reacted similarly. He termed the announcement "just a phase of the propaganda battle of the East against the West" and said it "will not change the enslavement of the East German population."

Trooper Patrol Plan Approved

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's plans for a four-year 140,000-unit public housing program were all but scuttled today by a House appropriations committee recommendation.

The GOP-dominated committee asked the House to cut the program to an estimated 35,000 units and to terminate it in two years. Its recommendation was contained in a $5,566,118,763 omnibus appropriation bill sent to the House floor for debate next week. The total amount in the bill is $363,604,837 less than the President wanted—a cut of 6.2 per cent. It is $375,168,400 below what the same agencies received this year. The bill carries funds for the fiscal year starting July 1.

A deep cut was made in funds recommended for the Atomic Energy Commission, but Rep. Phillips (R-Calif.) said no reductions in the AEC's construction and weapons programs are involved. Phillips is chairman of the subcommittee which wrote the bill.

A big reduction was recommended for the Veterans Administration, too, plus new restrictions on the Tennessee Valley Authority's (TVA) activities.

Senators Hear Top Secrets On Atomic Defense

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Informed senators said today that rapid mass evacuation of cities and improved aircraft killer missiles are key points in supersecret plans for defense against possible enemy atomic attacks.

Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee announced that top-secret details of the defenses had been outlined Thursday at a closed session by Robert C. Sprague, North Adams, Mass., engineer and electronics manufacturer.

No Complete Protection

Saltonstall said Sprague had full cooperation of all top defense, intelligence and atomic agencies in making his independent survey for defenses against "the growing menace . . . because of Soviet developments in the nuclear and thermonuclear (hydrogen) fields."

His public statement said the senators got a picture of an "effective" defense which, however, could not guarantee "complete protection."

Other senators who listened to Sprague said rapid evacuation of

McCarthy Not Spokesman, Says Michigan GOP

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan's Republican leadership does not regard Wisconsin's Sen. McCarthy as a spokesman for the party in this state.

Further, McCarthy made his recent Mt. Clemens appearance over the "objections" of the state GOP leadership.

Authority for this is State Republican Chairman John Feikens. He made the statements unqualifiedly in a public appearance of his own Thursday night.

Feikens declared himself in the course of a political debate with Neil Staebler, state Democratic chairman. They crossed swords in a debate sponsored by the 14th district Young Democratic club.

GOP Chairman Feikens' comments on McCarthy were the state party's first public expression of its views about the senator insofar as his status Michigan-wise was concerned.

Presumably, Feikens and Staebler met to argue party policies but the McCarthy discussion tended toward being the chief subject. Feikens' first comment on the Wisconsin senator followed a statement from Staebler that both the Republican national committee and the Michigan state central committee of the GOP "propose to utilize McCarthy as a spokesman for the Republican party."

"As far as Michigan is concerned," Feikens answered, "the contrary is true."

Methods Questioned

"When Senator McCarthy was in Michigan it was at the request of a local committee in Macomb County. It was over the objections of the state leadership of the party."

Billion Dollar Federal Sales Tax Cuts Assured

Erring Banker At Clio, Ala., To Cover Shortage

By REX THOMAS

CLIO, Ala. (AP)—Clio shook off the worst of its economic hangover today with curiously mixed feelings of anger and sympathy toward the money handler whose recent disappearance disclosed a $75,000 shortage in depositors' funds.

Some of the townspeople who at first were shocked and bitter at Royall Reynolds adopted a new attitude of forgiveness after he returned home and offered to sell everything he owns to help make up the deficit.

Faces Embarrassing Charge

With the money Reynolds hopes to raise, and the financial sacrifices of his almost blind father and other kinsmen, a spokesman said Thursday that the nearly 200 other depositors in the now-defunct Clio Merchants Exchange probably will get back 85 to 90 cents on the dollar.

Reynolds has been receiving treatment for a nervous condition at a hospital at Eufula, Ala. When he leaves the hospital he will be returned to jail at Clayton. He is charged with embezzlement.

A mass meeting has been called tonight to see whether depositors will agree to take a 10 or 15 per cent cut.

The family spokesman, J. S. Jackson Sr., estimated that with the help of relatives, Reynolds should be able to raise all but about $9,000 of the $164,000 on deposit in the privately operated Merchants Exchange.

Doing All He Can

Meanwhile, townspeople in this southeast Alabama peanut and

Higher Benefits Voted For Idle

LANSING (AP)—The House Republican caucus opened the gates today for its version of increased unemployment benefits. They are higher than the Senate approved or appears willing to accept.

The House bill provides a top benefit payment of $43 a week, compared with $41 in the Senate-approved Teahen Bill and $35 at present.

The House maximum is only one dollar short of Gov. Williams' demands for a $44 top, but he made it plain he was not abandoning plans to back a constitutional amendment to take the problem out of the Legislature's hands.

Williams, meanwhile, wired Clark J. Adams of Pontiac to ignore claims that drafting of a constitutional amendment will be wasted effort.

The amendment would probably require that unemployment compensation benefits equal half of the average wage rate.

Mother Of Two And Chicago Policeman Shot Dead In Alley

CHICAGO (AP)—A 25-year-old mother of two children, divorced last week, and an off-duty policeman were found shot and killed in an alleyway near her Southwest Side apartment early today.

Police found the bodies of Mrs. Virginia Gill, 25, and policeman William H. Walters, 38, near a fence with bullet holes in their heads. A .38 caliber snub-nosed revolver with five expended shells was found underneath the bodies.

Police Lt. John Mulloy said that Walters, who was single, halted Mrs. Gill as she returned home with Gerald P. Surprenant, 29. Mulloy said Surprenant believed the man was a bandit and he grappled with him. He said Walters, pointing a gun at him, ordered him to "beat it," grabbed Mrs. Gill and forced her into the alleyway.

Surprenant told Mulloy as he started to drive away he heard one shot. He notified police who found the bodies near Mrs. Gill's basement apartment at 2548 West 57th St. Mulloy said they found Walters' police service revolver in his hip holster fully loaded. He had been a policeman eight years.

Mulloy said Mrs. Gill's relatives said she had known Walters four years and at one time had dated him. However, they said when she tried to end their relationship Walters threatened her.

Mrs. Gill's children are Stephen, 2, and Paul, 9 months.

Wounded Michigan Congressman May Go Home Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich.), seriously wounded March 1 when Puerto Rican fanatics fired on the House chamber, "probably" will be able to go home next week.

That was the report today of Dr. Joseph R. Young, Casualty Hospital chief of staff, who said Bentley is "doing very well."

The 35-year-old congressman, given only a 50-50 chance to live after the shooting, now is able to walk around the hospital corridors.

Reduction Bill To Take Effect Next Thursday

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—A cut of about a billion dollars yearly on a wide range of federal excise or sales taxes seemed assured today with Senate passage of a $1,034,000,000 reduction bill.

The cuts will take effect next Thursday.

The Senate approved the bill Thursday night 76-8 after two days of lively debate filled the political overtones in a congressional election year.

Speedy OK Certain

It was sent to a Senate-House conference, which cannot take place before next Monday afternoon, since both branches are in recess until then.

But Sen. Millikin (R-Colo.), head of the Senate negotiators, said in an interview today he is confident the conferees will act speedily and rush the measure to President Eisenhower. The deadline for the President's signature is next Wednesday midnight.

Both branches voted identical cuts on many items, so they are certain to be in the final compromise version.

They include furs, jewelry, handbags and luggage, cosmetics, sporting goods, train-bus-plane passenger fares, telephone bills, telegraph charges, mechanical pens and pencils, lighters and electric light bulbs.

Veto Not Expected

Millikin and other Republican leaders predicted the President will sign the bill, although the Loss $1,000,000 In Midland Fire

MIDLAND (AP)—Wind-fanned flames burned out a two-story downtown business building today and collapsed a front wall before firemen controlled the blaze.

The fire in the nearly block-long Reinhardt building was discovered between 1 and 2 a.m. It was controlled but still burning at 7 a.m. Fire officials estimated damages at up to $1,000,000.

The building was the largest business structure in downtown Midland. No one was injured in the fire.

Police detoured the heavy plant traffic to the Dow Chemical Co. around the fire scene.

High winds hampered firemen in controlling the blaze. Fire companies from Midland, the Dow Chemical Co., Saginaw and Bay City joined in fighting the flames. Some 40 to 50 firemen were at the scene.

The blaze swept through the J.C. Penney department store, a jewelry store, gift shop and real estate office on the ground floor and professional offices on the second floor.

Stock from some of the stores was carried out to the street.

The Penney store was scheduled to move into new quarters across the street and had eight more days in the old store. The S. S. Kresge firm had planned to take over the Penney premises in the Reinhardt Building.

Spring Gales Cause Damage In Michigan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

High winds, ranging up to 76 miles an hour, blew into Michigan Thursday in the wake of severe rains and thunderstorms.

No one was reported seriously injured.

The Weather Bureau said the winds were general throughout the state and blamed the gusts on a storm center moving northeast over Lake Superior.

During the height of the winds, gusts were reported at 76 miles an hour at Cadillac, 75 at Grand Rapids and Saginaw, 65 in the Battle Creek and Jackson areas and 60 in metropolitan Detroit.

State police reported isolated instances of power failures due to downed lines from Traverse City south to the Ohio border.

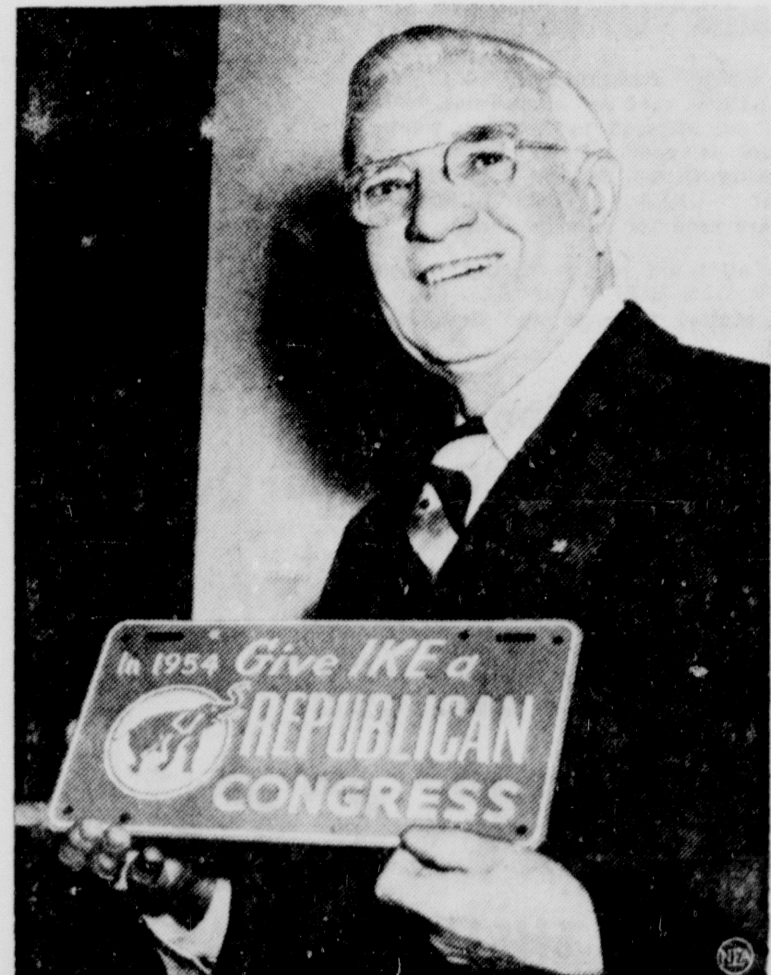

The police radio antenna at Flint was felled by the winds. Roofs were damaged at several Grand Rapids homes. And an accompanying rain flooded basements in East Grand Rapids and the city's southern suburbs.

In Detroit, street signs were overturned, windows smashed and singles blown off roofs. More than 6,000 Grand Rapids homes were without electrical service Thursday night when the storm broke three key power lines. Several homes in the city were reported damaged by falling branches. An accompanying rain flooded basements in the southern suburbs and East Grand Rapids.

Public Meeting Planned Monday

The meeting of candidates for the Escanaba City Council to be held Monday evening at 8 at the Junior High School will be open to the public and anyone interested in hearing the candidates may attend, Mrs. Frank Neumeier, voters service chairman of the League of Women Voters of Escanaba, emphasized this morning.

All of the candidates have been invited to the meeting and will be asked to give their views on nine civic questions. Any candidates who may be unable to attend in person will be given an opportunity to present prepared statements for public reading at the meeting. It is indicated that most of the candidates will attend in person.

"The League of Women Voters is a non-partisan organization interested in better government," Mrs. Neumeier said. "We feel it is a duty of our organization to encourage each citizen to use his voting franchise. We also give voting information to the electorate so the public can be better informed on candidates and on any issues on the ballot."

The full list of questions submitted to the candidates will be republished in Saturday's issue of the Press.

J. K. Jamison Is Claimed By Death

James K. Jamison, 67, author and historian of Ontonagon, died Monday in Elsinore, Calif., where he was residing in retirement.

His son, Knox Jamison, was for several years a resident of Escanaba and was employed here in the U. P. branch office of the state highway department. He is now superintendent of Porcupine Mountain state park at Ontonagon.

Mr. Jamison was born in April, 1886, in Loomis, Mich. A graduate of the University of Michigan, he went to Ontonagon in 1913 as superintendent of schools. He later was head of the White Pine schools during the Calumet & Hecla operations. He taught school in Detroit, spending some 20 years in the educational field.

He was Ontonagon County treasurer for several terms and a member of the state legislature from this district which at that time comprised Ontonagon, Baraga and Keweenaw counties. He later was appointed deputy state auditor. After retiring from this position he moved back to Ontonagon and moved to California in 1951.

Mr. Jamison was a regular contributor to "Michigan History." He is probably best known as the author of "This Ontonagon Country." Outstanding among his writings is another book, "By Cross And Anchor," the story of Bishop Frederic Baraga on Lake Superior.

He played a large part in the economic, civic and social life of Ontonagon.

Surviving are his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Albert Jenke, Whittier, Calif., one son, Knox, Silver City, five grandchildren and one great grandchild.

The remains will be cremated and brought to Ontonagon for burial in Evergreen Cemetery.

Bear Hunting Expert To Address Delta Sportsmen

Carl T. Johnson, president of the Michigan Bear Hunters Association who pioneered the hunting of bears with hounds in Michigan, will show colored motion pictures of bear hunts and speak at a program in the Escanaba city hall at 8 Saturday evening. The program is sponsored as a wildlife week event by the Delta County Sportsmen's Club and is presented without charge.

Johnson's pictures were taken by himself on some of the numerous bear hunting expeditions he and his group of friends have conducted in Michigan the last six years. Some of the scenes actually show the bear moving through the woods with the hounds dancing around it. Others show treed bears.

Johnson himself has killed few bears, usually leaving that honor to his co-hunters while he handles the hounds, but according to the Department of Conservation records Johnson holds the record of the second largest bear in Michigan—one taken in Manistee County in 1934, weighing 628 pounds.

Although in private life he is general agent for a life insurance company, with offices in Grand Rapids, his home is in Cadillac and most of his hunting has taken place in that area, Missaukee County's swamps and in the Upper Peninsula.

He was president of the Cadillac Big Game Club, a fox-hunting organization, until Michigan United Conservation Clubs brought Hack Smith and his hounds and Tennessee mountain handlers to the Dead Stream Swamp in Missaukee County in 1946 for the first effort in Michigan at hunting bear with dogs. Johnson obtained a couple of dogs from Smith and since has been buying and trading with owners in the Rocky and Great Smokey mountain regions, and as far west as California

City And Electric Co-op To Study Power Contract

Escanaba City Council and representatives of the Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative Association of Gladstone last night in meeting at City Hall moved toward mutual understanding of their power needs and a possible solution of the area power problem.

Following two hours of discussion the meeting concluded with the following understanding:

1. Alger-Delta will formulate and present to the Council for consideration a proposed 10-year contract to supply the city with surplus electric power.

2. The Council will consider the proposed contract and will hire consulting electrical engineers to study and report on the contract, and also a proposal that the city build its own electric generating plant.

The city's power advisory committee, appointed by the City Council, is currently engaged in preparing a report on a municipally-owned power plant.

Discuss Costs

Council opened its meeting last night with a review of the power committee's report on the proposed 10-year power contract with Alger-Delta. Discussion interrupted the review and only two points of the 10-point report were covered.

In discussion there was sharp disagreement between Alger-Delta and power committee representatives on some phases of the power committee's report.

Wynand Nieuwenkamp, Alger-Delta manager, said that in his opinion the cost to the city of Escanaba in connecting with Alger-Delta's contemplated power plant would be about $5,000. He based his estimate on information supplied to the city by Mead Corporation engineers. There would be additional cost to the city later when the city load increased to 7,500 KW.

The Council's power advisory committee has estimated the cost at $125,000 to $243,313. The committee's report also pointed out that "on the basis of all available surveys" it is indicated the Alger-Delta Co-op would be unable to meet the city's power load needs for very long.

Disagree On Rates

In discussion it was agreed that the city would eventually have to build its own plant, that when this was done the city plant could become integrated with other local power plants in a power pool for the benefit of the area.

There was disagreement between Nieuwenkamp of Alger-Delta and E. F. Zuehlke of the power committee on the proposed rates to the city under the 10-year contract.

Nieuwenkamp said the proposed 11 mill rate of Alger-Delta was 3 mills below a rate the city could obtain elsewhere. Gayeff said studies would show an "overcharge of $1,500,000 in your rates to the city" and the contract would not save the city money.

"So long as we can provide the city with power at a rate cheaper than the city can do for itself, then the city will save," Nieuwenkamp replied.

Gayeff, chairman of the power advisory committee, said the report being prepared by the committee on a city-owned plant will show the city can produce electricity for the city at a saving of 20 per cent under the rate offered by Alger-Delta.

Question Power Firmness

Zuehlke questioned how the City Council could arrange a contract with Alger-Delta when the power to be provided was only "excess" power.

Nieuwenkamp contended it was "firm power from excess supply" and noted that Alger-Delta is in complete agreement with the city on the need for a city plant when the city's load nears the point where it cannot be supplied by Alger-Delta.

Pointing out that Alger-Delta now pays 17 mills for power to Upper Michigan Power & Light Company, and 18 mills for power out of Marquette, Nieuwenkamp said:

"I'm working to acquire low cost power for this area. I hope we and the city can cooperate now and in the future."

Cooperation Plea

Councilman Edward Cox described it as a "power pool" and said in his opinion Escanaba should, when it builds its plant, become a party to the pool.

Raymond Berger of Wilson, president of the board of Alger-Delta pleaded for cooperation in solving the power shortage problem for the benefit of the entire area. The proposed contract will permit the expansion of Mead Corporation's paper making industry at Escanaba, provide additional labor and a larger market for forest products, he said.

"When we started out we had this mutual arrangement in mind,"

he said. "Let's go back to it."

Councilman Jacob Bink suggested that Alger-Delta submit a proposed contract "in final form" for Council consideration, and this suggestion was endorsed by Mayor Robert E. LeMire. He noted that little progress was being made in "quibbling back and forth."

In conclusion, Henry Wylie, member of the power advisory committee, directed Council attention to the fact the committee's report does not discuss the possibility of the Alger-Delta plant being located in the city, a location which Alger-Delta is willing to consider.

Crookston, Minn. Fire Kills Three

CROOKSTON, Minn. (AP) — Fire which spread with almost explosive speed roared through the Old Northwood Hotel early today, killing at least three persons, and injuring six others. Four are missing.

The blaze was at first thought to be a minor one in the area of the hotel kitchen. But shortly after the first firemen arrived it burst through the frame and brick structure. Most of the 38 guests were able to get out by fire escapes or leaped and dropped from second and third story windows.

Only one of the dead was immediately identified. He was A. F. Sowl, 44, Duluth, who had jumped from a second story window.

Two badly burned bodies were taken from the smoking ruins about nine hours after the fire was reported.

Briefly Told

Pole Blown Down—High winds yesterday afternoon toppled a telephone pole in the 300 block, Ludington St., and the wires fell across the street. The wires were cut away by the city's electric crew.

Glasses Found—A child's eye glasses in brown plastic frame were found today in the 1200 block, 1st Ave. S., and will be returned to the owner who calls for them at the Escanaba fire station in City Hall.

Thefts Reported—Escanaba police have received reports of thefts from cars in the city last night. Francis Gunville, 315 S. 9th St., reported that 15 gallons of gasoline had been stolen from his parked truck; and Mrs. A. Child Is Injured—Susan Emerson, 10, of Willow Creek Road, passenger in a car driven by Mrs. Gene Hebert of Bond St., Escanaba, suffered a bruised head in a traffic mishap at 10th St. and 3rd Ave. S. yesterday evening. The accident occurred when cars driven by Mrs. Hebert and Joseph B. Perron Jr. collided at the intersection.

Fishermen Haul Nets Out As Winds Smash Bay Ice

Commercial fishermen of the Escanaba area today were busy hauling out pound and gill nets as Green Bay and Little Bay de Noc ice broke up under the force of strong shifting winds.

More ice moved out of Little Bay de Noc to a line east of Escanaba. North of Escanaba fishermen were hurriedly taking out their nets, making the trips over the ice on foot because of its poor condition. There was no equipment lost here in the latest blow.

At Menominee yesterday a sheet of Green Bay ice estimated at 100 square miles caught several trucks and fishermen on its floe as it moved out. The men were rescued by boat, but the trucks were lost.

State Places Fur Producers Under Agriculture Dept.

Following the trend of fur producing states in the U. S., Michigan fur producers will be placed under the jurisdiction of the Department of Agriculture.

Rep. Einar Erlendson, Delta County representative in the legislature, was instrumental in the passage of Bill No. 248 which removes mink ranchers from the Department of Conservation to the Department of Agriculture.

Rep. Erlendson with Rep. Roland Engstrom of Traverse City were co-sponsors of the bill. On March 3 the House passed the bill 78 to 2 and on March 15 the Senate voted its acceptance 31 to 0.

The Upper Michigan Mink Breeders Association instigated action on legislation in December. Arnold W. Mulhern, secretary of the National Board of Fur Farm Organizations was consulted in Milwaukee. As a result of this conference the UMMBA passed a resolution asking for passage of the bill.

A delegation from the UMMBA consisting of Joseph Whitney, Frank Wawirka, Frank Bender, Jr. and Kenneth Sturdy met with officers of the Michigan Fur Breeders Association in Traverse City in January and through a joint effort procured support for the measure.

Assessors Discuss Their Problems At Escanaba Gathering

Valuation problems, the annual nightmare of assessors and board of equalization members, are being threshed out at a conference for assessing officers of the Upper Peninsula at the House of Ludington today.

Conducted under the auspices of the University of Michigan Extension Service with the cooperation of the Michigan State Tax Commission, the Michigan State Association of Supervisors, the National Association of Assessing Officers, the Municipal Assessors Association of Michigan, the Michigan Municipal League and the Michigan College of Mining and Technology, problems are being tackled both from the viewpoint of the assessor and the property owner.

Assessors, supervisors and other county officers from every part of the Upper Peninsula are in attendance with registrations numbering about 100 and many present in a semi-official capacity, bringing the morning attendance up to well over 125.

Cut-Over Lands

The conference began with an hour-long discussion of problems arising over assessment of property grouped under the heading "Cut-over Land." With C. L. Harrison, Escanaba, Forest Supervisor of the Upper Michigan National Forest discussing the problem from a local angle.

He said that there has been a tendency to place logged off land under a blanket classification. This, he said, is unfair in view of the fact that land values in this respect vary widely—from the jackpine sandy plains to hardwood lands well soiled with leaf loam. He said that there are 60 classifications for such land, but the number should not make the problem too complicated because the classifications are all well defined.

With reference to assessments on standing timber, he said the cost of cutting, labor involved, hauling to market etc., should always be considered when making an appraisal.

He also stressed the point that an assessor cannot do a fair job viewing the land from the road. E. Sheldon Markle, Lansing, of the Michigan Tax Commission, speaking from the tax commissioner's viewpoint, pleaded for more uniformity in the making of assessment appraisals within a given district. Valuations should be similar. There are, of course, factors to be considered such as lake shore property, lands abutting on trunk highways, etc. Basis for land valuations he said, should be determined largely on what the owner is willing to sell it for.

He also urged that there be a more reasonable spread between improved property, high in value and land unfit for farming purposes. When these valuations are reasonable, he said, the tax commission when called upon to check them over, will have a basis on which to work.

Mine Values Discussed

H. J. Hardenberg, Lansing, Mining Geologist and Mine Appraiser with the Michigan Department of Conservation, discussed at length the highly technical subject of placing valuations on mining. He stated that appraisals are complicated by the fact that with each ton of ore mined the value of the property dwindles correspondingly. Geological estimates, he said, are not regarded as the proper basis for valuations.

The most satisfactory basis for determining how the property should be taxed, he said, is the report of operations and costs of mining each ton of ore the operator must submit to the tax commissioner each year.

Assessors, he said, are provided with recommended valuations set by the state tax commission. These valuations are mandatory, but can be changed on recommendation of the county board of review.

J. Murray Riddall, Houghton, professor of mining and engineering at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology, concluded the morning's discussion with an explanation of mining of low grade ores, new methods of mining, costs incidental to prospecting and opening up new mines. These costs, he said, must be figured in assessing property that is not bringing in full returns.

Harold Gustafson, Ensign, chairman of the Delta County Board of Supervisors, presided at the morning session.

Land Valuations

This afternoon's session, with Fred Wegner, Lapeer, presiding, valuations of farm lands and resort properties are now being discussed.

E. Sheldon Markel, who discussed assessment of cutover lands this morning, is speaking

Voters Will Get Chance To Correct Sales Tax Inequity

VOTERS of Michigan next fall will get an opportunity to correct a major weakness in the state's sales tax diversion amendment. The Legislature yesterday voted to place on the November ballot the Conlin plan for revision of the amendment.

The Conlin proposal should find ready acceptance by the voters unless, of course, the written version of the amendment contains gimmicks that have not been revealed in the newspaper accounts of the proposal.

The present amendment contains grave dangers to the financial stability of the state government, a sort of "time bomb" ready to be triggered if, as and when sales tax receipts began to fall. The danger lies in the fact that this year's payments to school, made from current receipts, are predicated upon last year's revenue. Everything goes well as long as receipts hold up and, fortunately, they have held up since the amendment was adopted by the voters.

However, if receipts fall the state is forced to pay out a proportionately greater share to schools and if the situation would get bad enough, it is not inconceivable that the state would be left high and dry, without adequate funds for its own needs.

The Conlin proposal would change all that. It would give schools a slightly larger cut than they are getting now but it would base payments upon current receipts. In this way all of the participating governmental units are treated equally, depending upon the availability of funds.

The proposal is one of great merit. It is, in fact, a revision that is essential for maintaining the state's financial stability.

Out Of Voters' Jurisdiction

MRS. James Roosevelt, wife of the late FDR's son, won a temporary financial settlement from James not long ago on the ground that he was militantly untrue to her.

When the financial award was made, neither Roosevelt nor his attorney kicked up much fuss. They said they'd abide by the court's decisions, and would not appeal.

Now we are beginning to understand why. Roosevelt is taking his case to a unique appeals court—the voting public of the 28th Congressional District in California.

He has been handed the Democratic nomination for congressman in that district, and he obviously regards the campaign as an opportunity to vindicate himself.

We'll have to wait about eight months to see how his appeal comes out, but that's not unusual in the judicial world. Whatever its decision, the voting "court" won't be able to lift that $3500-a-month settlement burden off the candidate's back.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

From a Kansas City (Mo.) reader comes this interesting query: "Will you please answer a question that has had a lot of discussion in our office? Is the word 'direct' ever an adverb? If it is or can be used as an adverb, will you write whether it is a new or old rule?"

"Direct" is an adverb—just as good an adverb as "directly", though the two are not exactly synonymous in all uses. Furthermore, "direct" has been an adverb acceptable as good usage for at least a century.

Many well-meaning people, I learn from the letters I receive daily, cherish curious and entirely baseless theories about the language we speak. One such theory is that "all adverbs must end in -ly." Others, derived from classroom exposure to "school marm English," are that "sentences must never end with prepositions" and "you must never split an infinitive."

None of these theories will stand close scrutiny, of course, because each is entirely inconsistent with the recorded practices of the best writers and speakers not only of our time but through the centuries back to Shakespeare.

However, our concern today is with "direct" vs. "directly." Either word may be used as an adverb when you mean "by the shortest or simplest course." Thus it is equally correct to say "He went directly to New York" and "Ship the goods direct to Egypt."

There is one sense, however, in which only "directly" may be properly used. This is when your meaning is "immediately; at once." You might say, "Yes, sir, I will do the job directly"—never, "I will do the job direct."

My personal preference—and I believe this conforms to the practice of most writers today—is to use "direct" as the adverb whenever an indication of direction is desired, "directly" as an indication of time. And since the paragraph above on "schoolmarm English is aimed direct at some of the fossilized 'purists' who still teach in a few of our schools and colleges, I'm sure I'll be getting a barrage of protests directly.

The Doctor Says . . . Heavy Smoking May Affect Throat And Lead to Cough

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

One of those questions which I have been dreading has arrived. "Is it true what is being said about smoking cigarettes?" writes W. M. "Are they more harmful than a pipe or cigars?"

This puts me right in the middle of a controversy where I would rather not be. First, it is presumed that the question on cigarettes refers to the recent reports that cigarette smoking predisposes to cancer of the lungs. The finger of suspicion has not been pointed at pipes or cigars—at least not yet.

It seems certain that there has been an increase in the amount of cancer of the lungs and that this increase has gone hand in hand with the increase in cigarette smoking. Also, some investigators are convinced that long-continued and heavy cigarette smoking definitely increases the chances of developing lung cancer.

At present most students of the subject appear to feel that cigarette smoking is not the only cause of cancer of the lung but that it is an important influence; few non-cigarette smokers acquire this disease. So far as the second question on the relative harmfulness of pipe or cigar smoking as compared with cigarettes, I think no one actually knows.

At the moment however, there are some definitely accepted facts about smoking on which nearly all are agreed. Tobacco smoke irritates the delicate mucous lining of the breathing passages and certainly tends to cause a coated tongue. Heavy smoking will also affect the throat and larynx and frequently leads to slight cough and hoarseness.

Someone who stops heavy smoking suddenly usually gains weight merely because he or she eats more. Smoking increases the acid secretions of the stomach and, therefore, is usually banned for those with ulcers of the stomach.

SHORTENS BREATH
It is quite well known that smoking interferes with athletic prowess, and shortness of breath on exertion in heavy smokers is characteristic.

It is known too, that in certain diseases of the blood vessels, such as Raynaud's Disease or Burger's Disease tobacco is definitely harmful and must be discontinued.

These are a few of the speculations and facts about smoking I suspect, though I cannot prove it, that the effects differ a good deal from person to person and that it may be relatively harmless for some and extremely undesirable for others.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Senator McCarthy is one of the most skillful political tacticians ever to operate in Washington. A strong believer that the hand is faster than the eye, Joe can shift to a new field of operation quicker than any other man in politics.

This week from the safety of the Senate Appropriations Committee he made accusations against me which he never would have dared make had he not been protected from the libel laws by Senate immunity. He used this immunity in exactly the same way he inserted a 60,000-word speech in the Congressional Record accusing Gen. Marshall of being communistic, then incorporated his speech in a book on Marshall. It was the same tactic he also used against the Saturday Evening Post when he accused them of following the Communist line, but was careful to insert the letter in the Congressional Record before mailing it.

The timing of McCarthy's charges was interesting. In the first place he knew I was preparing a factual and devastating review of his Senate record for a television broadcast this week end. Second, Joe needed some diversionary headlines to take the play away from the Senate investigation of himself and the Army which is not going at all well as far as he is concerned.

As to McCarthy's charges that I violated the espionage act and that one of my assistants blackmailed a Pentagon official, they are of course serious to anyone who doesn't know McCarthy. For those who don't, here are the facts:

THE PEARSON RECORD

1. The Pentagon official to whom McCarthy refers was Don Murray, an assistant to the chairman of the munitions board, whose job it was to handle press relations. As such he frequently saw one of my assistants, Fred Blumenthal, but at no time did Fred threaten, blackmail or try to intimidate Mr. Murray. Fred is a friendly guy who just doesn't operate that way and I would fire him if I had the slightest suspicion that he did. However, to make absolutely sure, I talked with both Murray and Blumenthal after McCarthy circulated this rumor last summer and I am convinced no such thing happened.

2. It is a fact, as McCarthy states, that some production figures were discussed by Murray with Blumenthal, but as McCarthy also admits, they were not published. It is not uncommon—in fact, it is almost a daily occurrence—for government officials to discuss confidential matters with responsible newsmen. But this obviously does not constitute a violation of the espionage act. If it did, almost every newspaperman in Washington would be in trouble. McCarthy's intimation that the figures were "used for other purposes" is absurd and untrue.

3. McCarthy's claim that a Justice Department official named Murray called me in and gave me all the facts on an espionage case just doesn't make sense. I never heard of the official in question, nor of any such case. However, it should be noted that even if McCarthy's piece of fiction had happened, it is no violation of the espionage act for a newspaperman to receive information from a government official. The American Society of Newspaper Editors at this very moment is fighting for a broadening of this right of the press for freer information.

ROY COHN'S HAND

During the Truman administration, when Roy Cohn, the McCarthy counsel now under investigation, was working for the Justice Department, he processed a case against me based on the above information which he tried to get superiors to okay. They ruled there was no case.

When Attorney General Brownell took over the Justice Department, McCarthy demanded that he review the case again. It was reviewed, and my understanding is that the new Justice Department officials came to the same negative conclusion—"no case." However, last December, when Vice President Nixon and deputy attorney general William Rogers met with McCarthy in Miami in order to persuade him to lay off the Eisenhower administration, he renewed his demand that I be prosecuted.

It was reported to me later that he was then told the Justice Department still believed there was no case but to please him the matter would be put before a grand jury.

So far as I know it has not been put before a grand jury, though personally I think it would be an excellent idea.

Gen. O'Daniel Needs Striped Trousers On Indo-China Job

By FRED SPARKS

HONOLULU (NEA)—Lt. Gen. John Wilson O'Daniel is clearing out his Pacific Command desk here and packing to go to Indo-China where he'll head the expanding U. S. Military Mission. He better include striped trousers—as well as a steel helmet.

As a soldier he'll have to go up front to see French troopers use U. S.-made guns in lush jungles where Communist snipers share tree space with chattering monkeys.

And as a diplomat he must suggest better ways to use our weapons by coddling, wheedling, pleading. To the French commanding generals, proud as 10th generation dowagers, he has no right to and must never, never "insist."

Ike, no mean soldier-diplomat, could not have picked a better man for the dual role—unless he went himself. (Compared to Washington in-fighting, Indo-Chinese ambushes are mild.)

Despite his nickname of "Iron Mike," won in muddy infantry trenches in both World Wars and in frozen Korean foxholes, O'Daniel has spent years parlay-voing with the sensitive French and he loves them like a lover loves Paris in the spring.

A careful student of hit-and-run guerrilla war, he's already made long inspection tours along the elephant trails of Laos and through the rice paddies of the Tonkin Delta.

To a large extent the future of the conflict in Indo-China depends on how good a salesman is "Iron Mike." Can he sell the French command some of the Pentagon's pet ideas which he firmly believes will help win the war in two years—assuming the Geneva conference in April?

These ideas include American methods to train and support more native troops. If fresh, loyal Indo-Chinese battalions can be run through U. S. schools, based on assembly-line methods tried in Greece and South Korea, they'll be able to handle the Red guerrillas and free tougher French battalions for the Grand Offensive.

For the French Chief in Indo-China, aristocratic Gen. Henri Navarre, has said with Gallic directness: "Victory is a woman. She does not give herself except to those who know how to take her."

A man of deep religious convictions, "Iron Mike" goes forth to his new assignment praying for time. Time, time, time—so badly needed—is the thumping heart beat of hope, time to make the natives strong enough to defend themselves. Asians vs. Asians. Ike's idea.

For while Navarre and O'Daniel and the Pentagon are convinced the war cannot be lost on Indo-China's battlefields, others know it might be lost in the French National Assembly, divided into impotence by communism, cautionism and cynicism.

Forty-eight now, "Iron Mike" first met the French Army one nervous night in 1918 when his green platoon relieved a Senegalese outfit.

The newcomers worried in their ditch, blasting at shadows until a French officer, walking in the open bay as the Eiffel Tower, inquired: "What is wrong, mon ami?" But soon they met

(Sketch by NEA Staff Artist Ed. Kudlaty)
LT. GEN JOHN O'DANIEL: Time, time, time is his prayer.

Germans, and at St. Mihiel "Iron Mike" collected a chunk of the Kaiser's lead.

That year he learned much from the French Army, "the finest in Europe." In World War II he saw it a broken, scattered thing, and taught it newer games, helped it rebuild.

He led attached French soldiers against Hitler in what reads today like a newsreel flashback of history . . . first into Algiers . . . Sicily . . . the bad Days & Nights of Salerno . . . crunch, crunch, crunch and — finally! — break through the Siegfried Line.

After Hitler went up like a toasted marshmallow in his Berlin bunker, "Iron Mike," who started in as a dog-faced soldier, wore his first striped pants—in Moscow. As military attache he sniffed and studied communism from an office within boozing distance of the Kremlin. Later, as commander of "I" Corps, he fought same in Korea.

INFLATION—"Mr. President, movement causes friction and generates heat. The wild impetuosity with which this body is rushing toward the enactment of the President's program into law is not only causing heat but, if not interrupted, it might cause a conflagration that would 'cut us off even in the blossoms of our sins with all our imperfections on our heads.'"—Sen. Matthew M. Neely (D W.Va.) in a Feb. 17 Senate speech. (Page 1792, Congressional Record)

DEPRESSION—"The farmer gets less . . . spends less and industry employs fewer people. The Nation makes less and your national income goes down. Yet, when we ask for a fish we are given this serpent. When we ask for a loaf, we are handed this stone. When the people of America asked for a guarantee of 90 per cent of parity, they were promised 100 per cent of parity. We are now given the assurance only that we will go back to the price supports of the depth of the depression in the 1930's."—Rep. W. R. Poage (D-Tex.) in a Feb. 17 House speech. GREAT LAKES SHIPPING—From Lake Superior to Lake Ontario, from port cities such as Escanaba and Marquette to Buffalo and Cleveland, there is stir of activity as the Great Lakes shipping season prepares to get under way.

"The shipping industry on the Great Lakes is the envy of the rest of the world—but its importance is too often taken for granted here at home," according to an article in Great Lakes Shipping magazine. "Today it is one of America's greatest economic assets, a transportation system unmatched anywhere in the world for moving huge tonnages at lowest costs."

Without the Great Lakes shipping industry the price of the car you buy, the washing machine for your home, your refrigerator—even your daily bread—would be much higher.

IMPRESSIVE FACTS—Here are some facts that will help you realize the economic importance of the Great Lakes waterways and the fleet of ships that ply them.

During World War II Great Lakes freighters carried 889,000,000 tons of material. This was more than four times the amount carried by the ocean merchant marine.

The average lakes freighter can carry more than a third of a million bushels of wheat—the harvest of 22,000 acres of land.

Sailing distance from Duluth, at the head of the Lakes, to the eastern tip of Lake Ontario is 1,165 miles, about one-third of the width of the American continent.

The cost per ton-mile for shipping by lake is about 15-one-hundredths of a cent. This is the lowest-cost system of bulk transportation in the world.

SERVING THE NATION—"Everyone in the United States is better off in one way or another because of the remarkable efficiency of the Great Lakes shipping industry," reports the Lake Carriers' Association.

The transportation system carries 85 per cent of all the iron ore used in the United States, plus tremendous quantities of coal, limestone, grain and other commodities, a third of the way across the continent.

The industry is rated one of the strongest economic sinews of America's military strength. In a single year during World War II it moved 183 million tons of vital commodities, including 92 million tons of iron ore.

Postwar America was expanding markets at home and abroad. In 1953 more than 215,000,000 tons, including 95,000,000 tons of ore, were carried on the Great Lakes.

ALWAYS GROWING—Despite occasional fluctuations caused by economic conditions, the general trend in Great Lakes shipping has been always toward higher tonnages.

This is indicated in tonnage figures for the lakes fleet as a whole, and in the rise in vessel passages through the locks at Sault Ste. Marie between Lakes Superior and Huron.

Tonnage at the Sault locks is incredibly large—more than the tonnages of the Panama, Suez, and Manchester Canals and the River Rhine all put together.

And in the St. Clair River, connecting Lakes Huron and Erie, vessels pass at the average rate of one every 17 minutes, day and night, during the eight-month shipping season.

LOOKING AHEAD—Great Lakes vessels are being built larger to carry additional tonnage, and faster to reduce the round-trip elapsed time.

But the connecting channels of the Great Lakes must be deepened if the newer and larger vessels are to load to capacity. With the present fleet the inadequate channel depths are reducing the tonnage moved by about one million tons a season.

Largest vessels hold 20,000 tons of iron ore and can make the 1,800-mile round trip from Lake Erie to the head of the Lakes and back in 5½ days.

"While a great deal of the Lake Superior iron ore has been consumed, three-fourths or more of all the ore used in the United States will probably continue to come from these ranges for many years to come," according to the Lake Carriers' Association.

Moreover, the region contains untold millions of tons of low-grade ores, which through research have been brought to commercial development. Plants are being developed to process these ores and "the supply of good iron ore will become greater than we have ever before realized."

Cancer-Starving Plan Outlined

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The possibility of starving out cancer through the combined attack of dietary control and chemicals harmful to the growth was reported before the American Chemical Society.

The procedure was described as having a "promising possibility" by Dr. James B. Allison, who said studies now under way at the Rutgers University Bureau of Biological Research show that the life of a tumor-bearing animal may be prolonged through diet control.

This, he said in a paper prepared for the biological chemistry division of the society's annual convention, may make it possible to use chemotherapeutic agents—chemicals such as the "triethylenimines"—that are detrimental to cancer, to slow up, stop or even cause regression of the cancer.

Dr. Allison, professor of physiology and biochemistry at the university, said the administration of TEPA — triethylenimino phosphoramide — to laboratory rats reduces the utilization of food in both normal and cancerous animals.

The daily use of TEPA in rats with experimental cancer caused the tumors and all the other tissues to grow poorly, he said. But when the diet was properly supplemented with methionine, the effect of TEPA on the normal tissues was reduced and the tumor was still retarded. Methionine is one of the amino acids making up protein.

Gal. 2:19-21 (R.S.V.)

THE SELF—PROBLEM OR POSSIBILITY?

If the center of S-I-n is the "I," then the center of the deliverance from sin is the deliverance from the "I." Paul puts it: "I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me" (Gal. 2:20). Here was an "I" crucified and yet alive. Here was the self fundamentally denied and yet fundamentally affirmed. "Who loved me, and gave himself for me"—to do what? Obviously to deliver me from the "I." Not primarily to save me from hell, or to get me to heaven, but to save me from the center of my trouble—myself—the "I." The business of redemption is not to get us into heaven, but to get heaven into us; not to get us out of hell, but to get hell out of us. And the center of hell in any life is the unsundered "I." Your self on your own hands is a problem and a pain; your self in the hands of God is a possibility and a power. As "dirt is matter out of place," so sin is the self out of place, off-center, making itself God.

And nothing can break down this idol except suffering love. A teen-ager told me that if she stayed out beyond a certain time, she would have to eat bread and water at supper. She stayed out. At supper time she was given the bread and water and then the father reached over and took the bread and water and gave the daughter his own meal. Something had happened to her — inside. The self-will was gently broken and the father-will gently substituted by her own choice. No threat of punishment, no fear of consequence could work that miracle. Only love, suffering love, could do that.

The pain of penitence takes the place of the pain of outward punishment, so that the outward punishment can be lifted from the soul without loss or degradation to the soul. It is an operation without anesthetics. A sharp pain of penitence goes through you, then you look up into that dear Face that bends over you, and you know that the operation is successful. You walk forth from that operation room free from a cancerous "I," and now free to live with an "I" that is Christ-centered and therefore contributive.

O Christ, I thank Thee that Thou art not healing lightly my central sickness. Thou art giving a deliverance indeed. Amen.

AFFIRMATION FOR THE DAY: I am now free to be—to be the person God intends me to be.

Russian Ashes Fall On Japan

TOKYO (AP)—A Socialist Diet member said atomic particles are falling on Japan from Russian A-bomb tests near the Arctic Circle.

Shigeyoshi Matsumae, an engineer, said his information was "gleaned from American military quarters." He refused to elaborate. The U. S. Far East Command had no comment.

Matsumae's statement to newsmen followed release of a report Wednesday by the right wing Socialist party of which he is a member. The Socialists are pushing a resolution in the Diet calling on the U. N. to ban atomic weapons and urging international control of atomic energy.

The report said small quantities of radioactive ash fall on Japan about three times every two weeks from Russian explosions in Siberia.

"The United States has confirmed through these ashes that Russia possesses atomic bombs," the report said. "The ashes take three days to reach Japan and take one week to circle the globe."

The report of Russian tests stirred anew the controversy over radiation burns suffered by 23 Japanese fishermen who were too close to a U. S. hydrogen blast at Bikini March 1.

Junior leader, Joyce Aalto, modeled a red skirt and white jersey bolero type jacket with three quarter length sleeves. Sewing leader, Mrs. Raymond Watts, was introduced by Helen Hallinen.

Judge Miller, Speaker

Food for thought was provided by Probate Judge William J. Miller in his talk following the style show. He spoke on "Children's Services Outside the Home," which explained the work of the probate court outside of probate matters. Part of his work is being a juvenile judge and taking care of juvenile problems.

Judge Miller stated that in the State of Michigan a total of 16,000 children are provided for by the state outside of their homes. In Delta County alone there are 600 such juveniles.

"Why and how do children come under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court?" Judge Miller asked. "It may be neglect, divorce, misfortune of parents. It may be a child born out of wedlock or one who may be afflicted or crippled or a needy child. Serious behavior problems will bring the juvenile into this court.

"Children who are neglected by parents are sometime reported by police, neighbors, school or others to the court. An investigation is made and if found true, the parental rights may be severed permanently and the court places these children in licensed boarding homes which have to meet certain state standards.

May Be Temporary

"From here these children will either be given out for adoption or sent to the Catholic orphanage at Marquette or the protestant-non-denominational orphanage at Houghton."

"Sometimes the separation may be only temporary," he continued. After losing the children, some parents realize that they really can be good parents.

"Afflicted children, such as club foot, enlarged head, epileptic, feeble minded, etc., may be sent to Newberry, Marquette, Ann Arbor, or wherever treatment may be available. They must require hospitalization, however, in order to come under this law and cannot have a communicable disease. The only hospital with a ward for measles and such, is at Menominee.

"Needy children such as abandoned by father, or a widow with children to support will come under juvenile protection.

Parents Responsible

"Serious behavior problems will bring the juvenile into this court. It will also bring the parents into the same court. Some juvenile delinquents will come from good homes, but most cases prove that it is delinquent parents who cause delinquent children. When parents realize that their children are their most precious jewels, there will be a lot less juvenile problems," Judge Miller concluded.

Lunch was served by fifth and sixth grade mothers, with Mrs. Reino Kiiskinen, chairman.

Mae LaFramboise Becomes Bride Of California Youth

A wedding of interest to local residents is that of Miss Mae Meroy LaFramboise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LaFramboise, 7912 Flight Ave., Los Angeles, Calif., former residents of Gladstone, and Jack Derrill Moos, son of Mrs. Alta Moos, 1508 South Mayo, Compton, Calif., which took place at the First Methodist Church of Inglewood at 8:00 on Saturday evening, March 20.

Two large baskets of gladioli on either side of the church altar were enhanced with a background of two seven-branch candelabra. The aisles were defined with candelabra tied with satin bows and gladioli.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her bridal gown of white organdy over satin was detailed with a floor length skirt graduated to a train with a wide ruffled flounce and the long sleeved bodice with a close fitting neckline was outlined with a pearl necklace. A coronet of net trimmed with pearls secured her finger tip veil. She carried a nosegay of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Prescott Earle, sister of the bride, as matron of honor and the bridesmaids were the Misses Sandra Moos, sister of the bridegroom and Carol LaFramboise, sister of the bride. They wore like gowns of blue velvet and net over satin and carried nosegays of red roses.

Miss Nancy Lee Earle, niece of the bride, who was flower girl was gowned in a floor length pink organdy dress with a ruffled flounce skirt. She carried a basket of pink and yellow roses.

The Misses Joanne Earle, niece of the bride, and Vivian Martin, friend of the bride, lit the candles prior to the ceremony.

Serving as the best man was Sgt. William Moos, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Prescott Earle, brother-in-law of the bride, and Charles Adams. The men wore white dinner jackets, dark trousers and Maroon boutonnières.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. LaFramboise chose a pink changeable taffeta dress with black accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore an old rose changeable taffeta dress with black accessories. Each had an orchid corsage.

A reception immediately following the ceremony was held in the Fellowship hall.

The newlyweds enjoyed a honeymoon trip to San Francisco, Calif. On going away, the bride wore a light blue faille suit with a rhinestone studded collar and navy accessories. A white orchid corsage adorned her shoulder. Upon their return, they will reside in Inglewood, Calif.

The bride is employed at the American Airlines, Inc., and the groom is employed at the Northrop Aircraft, Inc.

April Court Term Will Be Without Jury

No jury will be called for the April term of circuit court in Schoolcraft County, the Hon. Richard W. Nebel of Munising, presiding judge in the 11th judicial circuit, decided here Wednesday afternoon following a conference in the Manistique courthouse with attorneys.

Circuit court opens here at 10 a. m., Monday, April 12.

The calendar for the term is scheduled to be announced next Monday and Saturday, March 27, is the last day for cases to be filed for the current calendar, the county clerk reports.

Only three cases in which a jury would be needed were ready for trial this term, and in two cases of the People versus Ray Marentette of Shingleton, the state has asked for a continuance until the June term of court here.

One other jury case, that of the People versus Leon Rushford, on a manslaughter charge, also will be continued. Rushford, who has entered a plea of not guilty, is at liberty under bonds.

When Judge Nebel assumed office last January, he made arrangements with attorneys to hold preliminary hearings on the calendar, to determine in advance whether or not a jury should be called. The procedure is designed to eliminate unnecessary summoning of juries.

"The Manner Is Ordinary" by John LaFarge is the inspiring autobiography of a man who becomes a priest and later comes to become a Jesuit.

"Cress Delahanty" by Jessamyn West sympathetically portrays the magic, the humor, and the seriousness of adolescence.

"True Adventures Of Doctors" by Rhoda Truax emphasizes the drama and meaning of pioneer discoveries in medicine.

Floherty; "Tune In For Elizabeth" by Mary Margaret McBride; "Angus And The Ducks" by Margorie Flack; "Where Are You Going?" by Charlotte Steiner; "When Will The World Be Mine?" by Miriam Schlein; "Yonnie Wondernose" by Marguerite de Angeli; "At The Library," "At The Post Office," "At The Zoo" and "At The Airport" by Lillian Colonius and Glenn W. HERMANVILLE—Mike's Bar of Escanaba moved into the Class B Gold Medal tournament semifinals with an easy victory here last night and AI's All Stars fell by the wayside.
By beating the Menominee DAR 52-42, Mike's earned its way into Sunday afternoon's semifinal round against the Stephenson Strollers. Stephenson advanced last night with an impressive 75-62 victory over Norway Town's.
AI's quint, bolstered by Wyoming University athlete Pete Kutches, was bumped out of tournament action by the Ishpeming Lions, 56-43. Maruke's of Negaunee won the other semifinal berth by edging Joe's Tavern of Hermansville, 51-50.

Dufour Sets Pace
The veteran Mike's quint had too many guns for Menominee. Paced by pivotman Bob Dufour's 15 points, Mike's fired a well-balanced scoring attack that kept them out in front through the game. The Escanaba cagers led 8-4 at the end of the first period, 22-18 at the half, 37-34 at the three-quarter mark and then turned on the pressure to outpoint the Menominee team 14-9 in the finale.

Big Don Scott flipped in 10 points and Angie Hirn clicked for nine to help carry the scoring load. Dick Neilson, lanky ex-Menominee High School star, hit 16 for the losers.

Canadiens Take Victory No. 2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Montreal Canadiens, defending Stanley Cup champions, were flying high but the Detroit Red Wings, winners of the regular season race six straight years, were in trouble again today as the National Hockey League's playoffs adjourned for a day.

Dickie Moore set two Stanley Cup records and the Canadiens took a 2-0 lead over Boston Thursday night in Montreal's 8-1 rout of the Bruins.

The Red Wings bowed to Toronto 3-1, after winning the first game of their series by a shutout. Moore scored the first goal after only 10 seconds, the fastest goal in cup history. He kept up the pace by scoring another goal and four assists for six points in the game, another record.

The Detroit-Toronto best-of-seven series resumes Saturday night at Toronto. Montreal will play at Boston Sunday.

the Lions, Kutches and Jerry McDonough led the Escanaba team with 13 and 11 points but it wasn't enough as three Ishpeming players hit in double figures, led by Stockton with 15. Ishpeming out-scored AI's in every period.

In This Corner With Ray Crandall

One of the St. Joseph athletes who will be honored at the all-sports banquet tomorrow evening comes from a long line of St. Joseph graduates . . . Bob Rademacher, football and basketball player, will be the 11th child of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rademacher, 709 3rd Ave. S., to graduate from St. Joe . . . In fact, Mrs. Rademacher started the string when she graduated from the parochial high school in 1914 . . . And she set a precedent for the Rademacher athletes to follow by playing with the early St. Joe girls basketball team in her high school days.

The Escanaba Cubs of the Waubung Baseball League will get new uniforms and a new name this season . . . Coach Al Ness, back in town after an operation at Rochester, has ordered snappy new white uniforms for the team and will have them lettered "ESKY CUBS," an appropriate and catchy nickname . . . It may be a little early yet, but Al says his players are already pestering him to get the baseball equipment out of cold storage.

Braves' Quinn High In Great Lakes List

Although he appeared in only seven Great Lakes Conference games during the season, Gladstone center John Quinn finished fifth in the race for individual scoring honors.

Quinn's 134 points gave him an average of 19.3 per start, second only to a 21.9 average by Loren Bess of Ishpeming who hit for 197 points in nine games.

Ron Beauchaine of Munising, Upper Peninsula Class B champion, was the leading scorer in the circuit with 201 points in 12 games.

The Braves' Duane Peterson also ranked high among conference scorers with an average of 11.3 per game, eighth highest among the 85 players who broke into the GL scoring column this season.

Red Wings' Playoff Hopes Jolted, 3-1, By Youthful Leafs

By JOE FALLS
DETROIT (AP)—Is this 1953 all over again?

Detroit hockey fans today puzzled over the Red Wings surprising reversal of form in the Stanley Cup Playoffs.

After trouncing Toronto 5-0 in Tuesday's opener, the Wings were in a sluggish group Thursday night in losing 3-1 to the Maple Leafs, who squared the best-of-seven, semi-final series at a game apiece.

The loss points up a startling similarity to last year's disastrous playoffs.

Last season the Wings opened the playoffs by overpowering the Boston Bruins, 7-0. They did the same this year against the Maple Leafs by a 5-0 score.

Lost In Six
Then, last year, the Red Wings dropped their second game to the Bruins, 5-3, and one of hockey's biggest upsets was in the making. Boston ousted Detroit in six games.

Toronto richly deserved victory Thursday night. The youthful Maple Leafs skated rings around the Wings for virtually the entire 60 minutes to win their first game at Olympia Stadium in 14 tries. Little Gordie Hannigan, a fleet 5-foot-7, 160 - pound left winger, scored twice for Toronto while Sid Smith clicked once. Marcel Pronovost scored for Detroit in the final period but all that goal did was save the Red Wings from suffering a shutout at the hands of goalie Harry Lumley.

Lumley stopped 26 shots, two more than Detroit's Terry Sawchuk.

The Maple Leafs win put the pressure on the Red Wings. Now Detroit must win at least once on Toronto ice if it is to gain the final round against the winner of the Boston-Montreal set.

The Canadiens took a firm two-game lead by routing Boston 8-1 Thursday night as Dickie Moore set a playoff record by piling up six points. Moore scored twice and had four assists. Bernie Geoffrion and Jean Beliveau also scored twice for Montreal.

The teams switch cities for games No. 3 and 4. The Red Wings and Maple Leafs tangle in Toronto Saturday while the Bruins entertain Montreal in Boston Sunday.

The Baltimore Orioles got three unearned runs from three New York errors and defeated the Giants 3-1, thereby giving the Birds the best record of the four clubs training in Arizona.

Hawks Nip Portage Lake Pioneers 8-7 On Brilliant Rally

MARQUETTE (Special)—As far as Tony Bukovich and his Portage Lake mates are concerned, the pesky Escanaba Hawks were never peskier than when they fought back from a 7-2 deficit to nip the powerful but slightly bewildered Pioneers, 8-7, before 1,400 stunned fans here last night.

It was 7-2 against the Hawks after only 16 minutes and 55 seconds of play. It was 7-3 going into the second period, 7-5 entering the finale and the relentless whittling process continued until Ted Olson drilled in the clincher with only two and a half minutes remaining.

Big Ted scored the tying goal at 13:00 and with the crowd going wild, he tallied the winner at 17:29 as the Hawks completed the startling comeback.

A Blazing Shot
The perennial Northern Michigan Hockey League champions started as if they intended to knock the never-say-die Hawks right off their pins last night. It was a "tremendous first-period scoring rampage."

Portage Lake scored five goals before the Hawks knew what the score was, figuratively speaking . . . Jackie Ruelle at 8:44, Joe Bukovich at 10:23, Jackie again at 10:57 and Jim Taddeucci collected a pair of flukes at 12:45 and 13:45 off Goalie Artwich's pad and Jim Ogile's skate.

"Terrible Tony" got in the act with two quick ones at 16:43 and 16:55, catching the Escanaba defense sound asleep on both occasions. Joe Ricci scored twice on assists by Mark Olson and the latter accounted for one to keep Hawk hopes flimsily alive, but it looked plenty dark with Portage sporting a 7-3 lead.

Spirit Did It
The Pioneers were flying all right, and the Hawks even after 20 minutes had not quite found themselves. The Pioneers were out to make their great first period burst of offensive power stand up, but they didn't quite figure on the sheer spirit and determination that has always marked Escanaba play against big odds.

Dr. C. L. Hirwas of Marquette took two of three clamps off Ben Artwich's head cut between the first and second periods, and maybe it was a good thing because the big Escanaba goalie played shut-out hockey the rest of the way.

He was peppered as much as ever, but for 43 minutes and five seconds after the big effort the Pioneers just couldn't get anything past Artwich. The Hawks couldn't afford another mistake the rest of the way. Portage Lake has a way of capitalizing but quick on any opponent misplay.

Hawks Go To Work

While Artwich began playing the sensational hockey that marked his play against Marquette in the semifinals, the forwards went to work on Houghton's four-goal margin.

Ted Olson cut the lead to 7-4 by surprising Goalie Clyde Berryman with a high, hard one from mid-ice. At 17:15 of the second session, Joe Ricci completed the hat trick with a blazing shot from 15 feet out front, again on an identical assist from Mark Olson, and the Hawks went to the dressing room feeling a little better . . . trailing 7-5 instead of 7-3.

It proved to be only the beginning as the Hawks' amazing comeback ability asserted itself. As Coach Olson said after the game: "It isn't recommended, but we seem to be at our best when two Tentatively, two preliminary track meets are scheduled to be held here prior to May 8. These also is a possibility that the MHS trackmen will attend the Marquette relays Memorial Day.

Syracuse Takes Lead In Basketball Series

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Syracuse Nationals overwhelmed the Boston Celtics 109-94 Thursday night for their sixth National Basketball Assn. victory and a 1-0 lead in the best of three eastern division final series. The Nets have not lost a game since March 13.

Dolph Schayes led the winners in scoring with 27 points, which was topped by Jack Nichols' 28 for Boston. Bob Cousy, the Celtics' key player, failed to connect for a field goal until only 16 seconds were left to play. He had missed 17 earlier attempts.

The two teams resume the series in Boston Saturday. Minneapolis, leading Rochester 1-0 in the western division final, plays at Rochester Saturday.

or three goals behind. Tonight it was four! So we were even better!"

Ricci Scores Four
Joe Ricci cut the margin to 7-6, again on a pass from Mark Olson, and the crowd sensed they were about to see the climax of a tremendous uphill battle. Less than three minutes after Ricci's fourth goal of the night, Ted Olson scored from scrimmage at the 13-minute mark to tie it up at 7-7.

The veteran Portage coach pulled off the stops out then in an effort to salvage what had looked like a sure win. Most of the time he had his full power on . . . himself, brothers Joe and Mike Bukovich and brothers Bernie and Jackie Ruelle, with Fran Lowney filling in.

But the Hawks and Goalie Artwich were more than equal to the occasion despite several scares that had the partisan Escanaba-Marquette fans hanging on the ropes.

After Ted's tying goal, the rivals played four and a half more minutes without a score. With time running out, both sextets were going the limit.

Only Four Penalties
And to climax the Frank Merriwell finish, Ted Olson drove his high, hard one home again from 20 feet out at the left front after a double pass from Buddy Prvoo and Mark Olson.

That was at 17:29. The Hawks led for the first time by 8-7 and they rode it out in the longest two and a half minutes Hawk fans hope they'll ever have to experience.

The game was fast and clean, only five penalties being called by Referee Dan Crowley.

With the 3-of-5 series tied at 1-1, the rivals meet again in Houghton at 2:15 Sunday afternoon. The fourth game will be played at 8 Tuesday night in Marquette and the fifth, if necessary, in Houghton Thursday night at 8:15.

Syria Newest Among Republics, Oldest Land

WASHINGTON—Syria, which has just experienced a sudden change of presidents, has tasted many changes through its long history.

One of the world's newest republics but one of its oldest lands, it has reflected major movements of mankind since earliest recorded time, says the National Geographic Society.

Its ancient capital, Damascus, was ruled by Egyptians and Hittites before it became a part of an independent kingdom about 1,000 years before Christ. Later the city knew a succession of conquerors — Babylonians, Persians, Greeks of Alexander the Great, Mohammedans and Crusaders. Late in World War I it was occupied by British and Arabs.

In 1920 Syria was placed under French mandate. In 1925 Damascus joined with Syria's largest city, Aleppo, to form a state which remained under French control. Only in 1941 did the Syrian Republic win full independence.

Girl, 11, In Coma Since Christmas Accident, Sees And Talks Again

BREMERTON, Wash. (AP)—Ginger Gray's first words on coming out of a world of darkness, silence and stillness were:

"What did I get for Christmas?" To Mrs. Ernest Gray, the 11-year-old girl's mother, hearing those words is what she got for Christmas — even though belatedly. And now, Ginger is moving about, talking and seeing in a world she very nearly left last Dec. 25.

The plucky little girl was injured in an automobile accident that morning — so badly doctors gave her only a few hours to live. Somehow she held on but she never moved for two months.

Then she emerged slowly from the coma that had gripped her; but she was sightless and could not talk or move. Her mother, on constant attendance, detected little changes, saw that her eyes appeared to see and that she was trying to talk.

"One day," Mrs. Gray recalled Wednesday, "I told her to close her eyes if she was trying to talk to me. She did, and I knew she knew me."

Then one day she asked the unforgettable words about Christmas and improvement became more noticeable every day.

Posse Captures Two Ypsilanti Men, Held In Dearborn Assault

DETROIT (AP)—Two Ypsilanti men were held for investigation of assault with intent to rob in the beating of a Dearborn township businessman.

The men, Russell E. Harris and Pat Haner, were captured Wednesday by a posse of 18 state police troopers and Wayne County sheriff's deputies after they trapped them in a wooded area near Wayne.

Police said Wallace Goodnow, owner of a trailer sales agency, suffered head and eye injuries in a scuffle with the two men. Goodnow said they tried to take his wallet.

Deputies said Harris and Haner admitted beating Goodnow in the washroom of a tavern near Wayne but denied trying to rob him. Harris told police he "didn't like the way Goodnow looked at us."

EAST HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Police got a call that a man was chasing a woman along a street. The time was 3 a. m. The investigating patrolman reported that it was a husband chasing his wife because she refused to cook his breakfast at that hour.

Navy Wife Gets Repeat On Birth

CHELSEA, Mass. (AP)—The U.S. Naval Hospital here disclosed that a Navy wife who gave birth to a daughter 10 days ago is expecting a second delivery in six weeks as a result of separate conceptions, believed to have been at least a month apart.

The mother has dual organs of procreation, naval authorities disclosed, an extreme rarity in medical history.

The first child weighed three pounds, 14 ounces at birth March 15 and has been in an incubator at the hospital, reportedly "doing well."

The mother, Mrs. Wilbur Chapman, 31, of Foxboro, Mass., is at the hospital but expects to be allowed to go home for a while before returning for the second birth.

The unusual circumstances of Mrs. Chapman's pregnancy were discovered by Lt. Pauline E. Clark of the Navy Medical Corps.

Capt. Lewis T. Dorgan, Navy doctor, said it was believed no more than six such cases are listed.

The naval officers' report appears to rule out the possibility of delayed birth of a twin.

O-JIB-WA BITTERS HELPED ME WHEN I GAVE IT A FAIR TRIAL

"Four years ago I tried O-JIB-WA for a couple of days and quit. Recently I gave it a fair trial, and am amazed by the good results I received," says Mr. Charles Whipple, 16128 Linwood, Detroit, Michigan.

"It was about ten years ago that I first began to notice stiffness and soreness of arthritis in my back. It gradually became worse until I was forced to walk all over the place. After two weeks I wasn't bothered with lots of times gas on my stomach and in a I couldn't even month, I knew that O-JIB-WA was the answer. I tried it for a couple of days and it helped me. I believe that there is nothing better than O-JIB-WA BITTERS. I am so glad that I gave it a second chance, and that I'm all better now."

Gas Well Burns At Tustin, Mich.

TUSTIN (AP)—A newly-drilled gas well, fed by a 6,000,000 daily cubic foot flow, burned spectacularly out of control for nearly seven hours late Wednesday.

Two men were injured and damage was estimated at from $5,000 to $6,000.

The fire was believed touched off by a spark as drillers prepared to put the well into production. It was extinguished by a Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. crew from Marion using fog equipment.

The well is on the Henning Hammar property three miles east of Tustin in Osceola County. John Wicklund of Clare, operator of the Mogul Oil Co. which owns the well, said no permanent damage was caused to the well.

The two injured drillers, Lay Belleville, 42, of Ewart, and Devon Tence, 54, of Alma, were treated at a hospital for minor burns and released.
